

Jack Wright Memorial Trust

Sponsoring up to 6 scholarships for young professionals U35 to attend UK Irrigation Association spring conference

*Planning for abstraction reform:
are you ready to protect your water rights?*

Wednesday 6 March 2023 Peterborough

The Jack Wright Memorial Trust (JWMT) was set up in 1966 to honour the memory of Jack Wright, a pioneer for irrigated agriculture in the UK and the founder of Wright Rain Ltd, a well-known manufacturer of irrigation equipment.

JWMT has kindly agreed to provide up to 6 scholarships to enable young professionals (U35s) working or studying in some aspect of irrigated crop to attend the UK Irrigation Association (UKIA) Spring Conference: on Wednesday 1st March 2023 at Orton Hall Hotel, Peterborough.

Full conference programme is available via the UKIA website at www.ukia.org

To apply for a scholarship please do so in writing to include a brief CV, your current work and career aspirations related to irrigation farming, and how attending this conference will benefit your career development (no more one side of A4). Preference will be given to UK residents.

Please send your application by email to:

Melvyn Kay Exec Secretary m.kay@ukia.org no later than Monday 31 January 2024. The results of your application will follow by 13 February.

For more information on JWMT visit our page on the UKIA website

Scholars presenting at AGM

In Spain 2023 click here for video

In Bulgaria in 2018